Andover's Dee-Dee Palmer remembered as energetic and supportive friend

By ALISON ALOISIO

"I have my own drawer at her house. We were sisters." That's how close Amy Farrington of Andover felt to her best friend, Dee-Dee Palmer.

They met in fourth grade at the Andover Elementary School, at a book fair.

Amy described herself at the time as a shy, academic type. "I was drooling over a book," she said, when Dee-Dee started a conversation with her.

More than able to make up for Amy's shyness, Dee-Dee quickly made her a friend.

The friendship continued through middle school and high school, into this, their junior year.

It was cut short on Saturday when Dee-Dee died in a car accident in Canaan.

Dee-Dee was driving behind a Telstar bus bound for a Future Business Leaders of America workshop in Newport. On the bus was Amy, as well as three other close friends of Dee-Dee.

Newry selectmen given overview of the options for ambulance service

By ALISON ALOISIO

The directors of three area ambulance services, as well as the emergency management director for Oxford County all responded to Monday evening's meeting of the Newry selectmen.

The directors of Med-Care, PACE and Bethel Rescue were there to discuss the town's future options for ambulance service.

Med-Care currently provides coverage, but its agreement with the 11 member towns is up for renewal next year.

In addition, Med-Care is proposing to build a $2 million facility to replace the current station, which is too small. But that proposal prompted some towns to question the cost and the term of the financing for the new building.

At their last meeting, Newry selectmen raised the question of whether they should look at other options for service before committing to the project and another interlocal agreement.

On Monday Dean Milligan, director of Med-Care, gave a brief overview of the differ-

Voters here tightfisted

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Area voters agreed with their fellows statewide when it came to two referendum items on the Election Day 2007 ballot, but they were a bit more tightfisted when it came to spending money.

Voters here and statewide just said "no" to the two referendum items: refusing to approve another Indian "racino" for the state, and refusing a proposal that would have extended term limits for legislators.

The racino proposal was defeated statewide by a margin of 52-48 percent, but the spread here (where an Indian-operated casino had been proposed and strenuously fought in the mid-1980s) was closer to 55-45 percent (full local voting results, Page 2).

All quiet on the Greenstock waterfront

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Heavy fall rains have swelled the waters of the three ponds held back by the Alder River dam in Locke Mills, but the past summer's angry roiling over just how high those waters should be kept appears to have subsided.

And a committee formed in response to the past season's acrimony appears well on its way toward developing a water-level management plan that might satisfy, if not universally delight, most waterfront stakeholders.

The past summer's events were precipitated by winter run-off and late spring rains, which raised the water levels to the point that some property owners protested.

High winter waters led to shorefront ice damage, they complained, and come spring parts of their land remained under water.

ing the water level behind the dam by a foot.

This pleased those who thought the water had been lasted two and a half hours, and seemed to satisfy no one.

Later that month about 30 people turned out again at a special Town Meeting to again protest the low-water levels.

Loretta Mikols, chairman of the town selectmen, urged calm.

The town planned to form a committee to study the matter, she said, and to come up with a well-thought-out plan for managing the water level.

In response to complaints that the selectmen were moving too slowly to resolve the situation, Mikols argued that undue haste would only create more serious problems.

"We are moving to the place

"LITTLE DOG, BIG HERO."

said Woodstock Fire Chief Jeff Inman. Robert Springer's dog woke him up Friday evening as a fire spread through his home on Route 26 in Woodstock, enabling Springer, the dog and a cat to escape safely, Inman said. Springer was asleep at about 8:30 p.m. when the dog began licking his face. The home was destroyed, but firefighters were able to save the garage. Fire Departments from Greenwood, Bethel, West Paris and Paris also responded, as well as Tri-Town and Med-Care ambulances and Oxford fire police, said Inman. Other family members arrived at the home later in the evening. The family has been staying at the nearby Moilyockett Motel. The Red Cross has been assisting them, and local residents have been donating clothing and other items. The home was insured.

TELSTAR CRAFT FAIR

To the Editor:

The Friends of Telstar is pleased to announce the return of the annual Telstar Craft Fair on Saturday, Dec. 1, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Craft Fair will be held at Telstar Middle/High School gymnasium. This year we are again excited to hold the Craft Fair in conjunction with the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce's popular Taste of Bethel and Theme Wreath Auction events, also at Telstar on Dec. 1.

The Craft Fair will feature the creations of talented crafters who we look forward to seeing each year, as well as new vendors and student groups. This year we will also feature crafts created by Telstar Middle School students. Returning will be balloons and face-painting for the kids, a lunch and bake sale, and the vast Raffle Table with a large variety of items and gift certificates donated by our crafters, community businesses, and Telstar families.

The Fair continues to be planned and conducted by Telstar volunteers, staff, and students. The proceeds from table rentals, food sales, and raffles will benefit students with activities, special events, and scholarships.

There is still space available, and we invite all crafters to join in the fun, as there will be many people out and about enjoying holiday events in Bethel on Dec. 1. Contact Michelle at 824-4430, e-mail mpowell@megalink.net, or call Telstar Middle School at 824-2136 for more information.

Thank you for supporting our students, and we hope to see you all at Telstar on Dec. 1!

To the Editor:

November is Enlistment Month for the Legion and Legion Riders. If your post and its members want more information on the Legion Riders, please feel free to call me, Assistant Director Edward Ellis, at 364-9072.

I can give you ideas to set up a group of motorcycle riders for your Legion. Sons of veterans and daughters of veterans are welcome to join both. Or call and I'd be glad to come and talk to you and then you can decide.

Thank you for your time and interest.

W.P. SHOWCASE AND CRAFT FAIR

To the Editor:

West Paris is seeking crafters, nonprofit and for-profit organizations, and businesses to participate in its third Community Showcase and Craft Fair. The event will kick off Christmas festivities with Santa and the Mrs. visiting the Agnes Gray Gymnasium where it will be held. There will be food for sale there, too. Starting time is 12 p.m. and promptly at 5 p.m. a parade led by the jolly old man himself will proceed to Derby Hill for caroling and the lighting of the town tree. Last year's program was well received, and we are looking forward to an equally successful event this year.

To schedule display space or for more information, please contact Lisa at 674-2127. Space is available for $5 if you supply your own table, $10 if a table is rented. Proceeds will be used for a community project. (Last year we bought American Flags to line Kingsbury Street.)

THANK A VETERAN

To the Editor:

"Nothing in our lives will ever be as important as this," is what Lt. Col. Henry Mucci said prior to leading a mission to rescue over 500 American prisoners of war held by the Japanese. While Mucci's mission was certainly important as he said, America is blessed because millions of men and women realize that nothing in their lives is as important as defending this nation.

For many veterans, it was important enough to endure long separations from their families, miss the births of their children, freeze in sub-zero temperatures, bake in wild jungles, lose limbs, and, far too often, lose their lives.

Sadly, their deeds are frequently unappreciated.

In an essay early this year, Army Sergeant Eddie Jeffers wrote, "Even thousands of miles away, in Ramadi, Iraq, the cries and screams and complaints of the ungrateful reach me. In a year, I will be thrust back into society from a life and mentality that doesn't fit your average man. And then, I will be alone. And then, I will walk down the streets of America, and see the yellow ribbon stickers on the cars of the same people who compare our president to Hitler."

Historians have said that Dwight Eisenhower was prouder of being a soldier than he was of being the president. This pride is on display on every obituary page in the country, where military service, regardless of how many decades have passed and subsequent achievements reached, is mentioned with the death notice of nearly every deceased veteran.

Twenty-three percent of America's homeless population is veterans, 89 percent were honorably discharged and 47 percent served during the Vietnam War. Too often today's tattered citizen of the street was yesterday's toast-of-town in a crisp uniform with rows of shining medals. This is hardly the "thanks of a grateful nation."

And now, the American GI consistently tops public opinion polls and surveys as the most respected person in America. Fewer than 10 percent of Americans can claim the title "veteran."

In 1789 George Washington said, "The willingness with which our young people are likely to serve in any war, no matter how justified, shall be directly proportional as to how they perceive the veterans of earlier wars were treated and appreciated by their country."

This is not a Memorial Day, this is Veteran's Day! Thank a veteran, thank them for their service!

was easily defeated both here and across the state.

The three spending proposals on the ballot were all passed; but two, a bond for research and economic development, and another for college campus improvements, passed by narrow margins statewide and were rejected outright by voters here.

The third spending proposal, which authorized $35.5 million in additional funding for the Land for Maine's Future Program, had far easier sailing, passing statewide by a margin of more than two to one.

But here again, local voters showed their reluctance to spend money. They too approved the bond, but by a somewhat smaller margin of 63-37 percent.

where the impact of a bad decision is entirely too great," Mikols said, "and if that means it takes a little more time to get the right answer, rather than rush to judgment and have a catastrophe happen, then we're guilty."

Committee drafts plan

The committee formed to address the water level issue (the Water Level Policy Committee) began meeting in September, and late last month completed a draft plan for management of the water during the fall and winter.

There are 13 members on the committee and the plan was approved unanimously by the 11 members present at the most recent meeting.

The plan calls for drawing down the ponds beginning on or about Nov. 1 of each year, by removing all three levels of batten boards at the dam.

A plan for what will happen in the spring and summer has yet to be developed, and may prove more difficult to find such broad consensus on.

But by next spring the committee hopes to have a year-round plan ready to present to town residents.

A hearing on the plan will also be held during the summer, when more seasonal residents can attend, Town Manager Kim Sparks said.

Critic 'delighted'

Long-time North Pond resident Marie Bartlett had been among the most vocal critics of the manner in which the town has handled the water-level situation.

But Bartlett said Wednesday she was "absolutely delighted," with the progress the new committee has made.

They've been very reasonable," Bartlett said. "The approach they're taking is wonderful."

The local members of the committee, and the particular area of interest and/or expertise of each, are:

Jim Chandler, chairman, biologist, aquatic plants and animals.

Pete Seaman, Community Lakes Association/engineer.

Gary Fuller, CLA/water quality.

Blaine Mills, historical.

Glen Kimball, business community.

And Kim Sparks, and the town's three selectmen: Mikols, Wayne Hakala and Fred Henerson.

There are also four on-call members:

Dana Murch, dam supervisor, Maine Department of Environmental Protection.

Tony Fletcher, dam inspector/emergency management, MDEP/MEMA.

Francis Brautigam, regional fisheries biologist, MDIF&W.

Jim Sysko, dam engineer, Small Hydro East (Sysko was the engineer for the dam overhauls completed in 2004).

The Water Level Committee is tentatively scheduled to meet again on Nov. 19, Sparks said.

Line worker killed on Route 2

SHELBURNE, N.H.—A line worker from Maine was electrocuted while working on communications lines off Route 2 in Shelburne last Thursday. Russell Stephens, president of Nextgen Telecom Services Group Inc., confirmed that an employee was killed when a live power line came loose and fell on the boom of the worker's truck, electrifying the vehicle and the bucket where the man was working. Shelburne police identified the victim as James J. French of LaGrange or Corinth. He was the father of two young children. French had more than a decade of experience and had worked for Nextgen for more than a year. Another worker on the ground was not hurt. The workers were installing a fiber optic network for Time Warner Cable. A spokesman for Public Service Company of New Hampshire said crews cut power to the line and helped in the rescue and recovery effort. He said the incident temporarily knocked out power for about 1,000 customers.

Garbage truck found in N.H.

MEXICO—A garbage truck stolen from Archie's Inc. was found Friday in New Durham, N.H. The truck was believed to have been taken in late September. It was found in New Durham after an anonymous caller reported it on a dirt road near Lake Winnipesaukee. The license on the 1999 vehicle was traced to the Mexico truck. There are two suspects in the theft, which is still under investigation.

ences among the three services.

Med-Care, he said, is a quasi-municipal organization owned by the member towns.

The service keeps paramedics (the highest trained responders) available as needed and assigns them to calls requiring that level of response, he said.

PACE, a private service operated by Stephens Memorial Hospital, staffs each of its ambulances with a paramedic.

Bethel Rescue generally provides a paramedic during the daytime, but is otherwise staffed by volunteer emergency medical technicians.

All the services deliver good care, he said, but use different formats.

Bob Hand, PACE director, talked with the selectmen at their last meeting about the possibility of his agency providing coverage.

"The point was to look at everyone so you know what's out there," he said Monday.

But Hand said because SMH is not sure providing coverage in Newry is financially feasible, the hospital would like to see the town first put out a request for proposals.

Cheryl Bennett, director of Bethel Rescue, said her service was willing to talk about the possibility of providing coverage.

But, added Scott Cole, Bethel's town manager, "We're not here to sell anything. We're the closest unit. There's reason for us to be here whether Bethel becomes a first responder or not."

Support for Med-Care
Most of Monday's discussion centered on Med-Care's services.

Kevin Scott of Andover attended the meeting, and asked whether a satellite station in the region was feasible.

Milligan said the Med-Care board had studied the option, but with the bulk of the population served located elsewhere, a full-time ambulance "would be called out of the area constantly."

Ken Dixon, fire chief in Andover and vice president of the Med-Care board, supported the current arrangement.

He said the towns "would be hard-pressed to offer services individually. The 11 towns have been well-served. It spreads the burden around."

An asset to EMA

Also attending the meeting was Scott Parker, emergency management director for Oxford County.

Parker said a new facility for Med-Care would make the northern portion of the county stronger in its ability to provide coverage.

Parker also noted Med-Care's contributions to the county's EMA efforts, such as maintaining a county incident-management-assistance vehicle and a mass-casualty trailer.

But he emphasized that while Med-Care's resources are an asset to the county, he is not advocating the member towns contribute extra tax funds to Med-Care in order to benefit the county.

Milligan also described a new program Med-Care is establishing in cooperation with Sunday River Ski Resort.

Resort security personnel will be trained as licensed first responders, he said, so they can respond to calls off-mountain and provide basic life support until Med-Care arrives.

Such training will also be offered to community members, he said.

Shorter payoff on loan

Milligan also provided some clarification to the board regarding the building project.

He said that the original 40-year loan, to be obtained through the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has been reduced to 30 years in response to concerns about its length.

In addition, he said, there is no penalty for early payment, and Med-Care would work hard to pay off the loan in approximately 20 years.

"We have no interest in paying for 30 years," he said.

Selectman Jim Largess said he favored putting out requests for proposals.

"[The ambulance services] are the experts," he said.

But it was decided to hold off on any decision until at least the next regular meeting. Selectman Wendy Hanscom was not in attendance.

On Dec. 4, Med-Care will hold an informational meeting for officials of member towns on its history, interlocal agreements and the proposed project.

"I'm glad you're bringing everyone together," said selectman Steve Wight.

Milligan also described a

DEE-DEE PALMER

Dee-Dee

The bus was also involved in the accident, and the other teens received minor injuries.

But on Monday, they said, it was Dee-Dee's legacy and their good memories that are important.

A communicator

"I first met her on a field trip with all three elementary schools," said Mat Lauro of Woodstock. "She was so bright and cheerful. I really had no choice but to become friends with her."

"She'd talk," said Thomas Henley of Andover, to the laughter of the others. "If you were shy, she'd carry the conversation."

Thomas, a senior, got to know Dee-Dee in middle school, and she was like a little sister to him.

But, said Thomas, "she didn't like the stereotype of a whiny, bratty little sister. So I had to consider her my little brother. She'd sign notes to me 'Lil Bro.'"

Dee-Dee was the historian for the FBLA — a fitting responsibility, since she remembered everything, FBLA-related or not.

Liz Forkus of Woodstock recalled an FBLA conference the group attended in Portland last year.

"We decided we wanted food. So we went to McDonald's and walked through the drive-through in our pajamas and ordered ice cream," she said.

Dee-Dee struck up a conversation with the clerk. Months later, said Liz, "She remembered the name of the guy at the window."

A doer

But as much as Dee-Dee liked to communicate with people, her friends said, she was much more about doing things.

"Action was important," said Amy. "You had to talk while you were doing something."

Sometimes her planning and directing would wear a little thin. After one such episode, "She tried not to plan for two days," said Liz. "She said, 'You guys do it,'" said Amy.

Nothing got done. Dee-Dee was restored to power.

A confidant

While Dee-Dee served as events director and cheerleader, her friends said, she was also there for them when things weren't going well.

"She'd take on everyone's troubles," said Amy. "She knew exactly how to make you feel better."

"If you were having a bad day, there was no one better to talk to," said Thomas. "She really just cared about everyone."

Not surprisingly, he said, Dee-Dee was considering a career as a nurse or physician's assistant.

Putting all the facets of Dee-Dee's personality together, the friends think they know what she would want people to do now that she's gone.

"She would want everyone to comfort each other and get back to normal. Start making plans and help one another," said Amy. "She would want us to focus on her family."

That includes both her immediate family, and the one at Telstar.

"It's been a rough time for Telstar," said Amy.

She's not just referring to Dee-Dee's death. Two other members of the junior class recently lost parents, Amy said, and one of them lost a home in a fire last Friday.

In Dee-Dee's memory, said Liz, "she would want us to help the other kids who are still here."

A Mother's reflections

From SANDY HALL

My earthbound angel who's description of herself are the only words that could fit. She told me she was proud that she was heart, body and soul filled with respect. She was filled with gratitude because of the journey we have shared. My little princess was the light of my life. And magic and enlightenment within my heart and mind. She was a huge piece of who I am for she lifted me up and filled my life with so much joy. The footsteps of our journey together are gone but I know she has her wings and I'll listen to the wind.

They say a person's life can be measured by the love they leave behind. Dee you left such a long life's journey of love in your short time here. We love you!

Oncoming driver swerved after dropping hankerchief

By ALISON ALOIOSIO

Telstar High School junior Dorothy (Dee Dee) Palmer of Andover died Saturday in a car accident in Canaan.

Palmer, 16, was driving her car behind a Telstar school bus on Route 2 in Canaan when an oncoming van crossed the center line, according to state police.

The van sideswiped the bus, then struck Palmer's car head-on.

Palmer died at the scene. The van and bus overturned onto their sides.

The van's driver, Stephen Carter, 49, of Whitefield, and the six people on the bus were taken to a Skowhegan hospital with minor injuries, police said.

Tips from the Bethel Police Department

- If you dial 911 by mistake, don't hang up. Stay on the line and tell the dispatcher what happened.
- So that responders can find you quickly in an emergency, make sure your house number is clearly visible from the road — on the house if it is near the road, or on a mailbox or post if the house sits more than 50 feet back.
- Watch out for scam letters and phone calls. A letter may state you have won money and need to pay a fee to claim the prize and release the money. Sometimes people will receive a check they are directed to cash, and then repay a portion to the sender. Phone scams may also attempt to elicit information (such as a social security number or birth date) the caller can use to steal someone's identity. And if a caller says they are collecting money for a good cause, ask that written information be sent first.

BethelMayville and Around Town

By Donald G. Bennett

Bethel's Telstar Video movie rental store on Bridge Street is winding down. Eighteen years ago Karen and Eric Wright took over the Casablanca Video rental business housed in what is now the Good Food Store. The event happened this way. Eric was Bethel's Police Chief and had been called to the store to settle an alteration between the owner and the operators of the store. While there Eric was asked to buy Casablanca Video.

Karen named the Wright's new enterprise, Telstar Video. She said that it was a name that came to us naturally. I had been a secretary at Telstar High School and Eric had spread sawdust for laying out the skin of the first "bubble" antenna dome at Telstar in Andover.

About six months later, the Wrights bought Eric Paul's movie rental business called #1 Video, which occupied the Naimey Block annex that had been the Bethel Spa and before that Harold Chamberlain's store. They renamed #1 Video, #1 Telstar. A few months after acquiring #1 Telstar, the Wrights bought the late Stan Fox's home from his widow. This building became a residential rental and the home for the first Telstar Video. "Joe" Roderick was their first tenant. (But, that is another story.)

Before cable TV, for many

Bethel movie fans, rented video movies were attractive pastimes due mainly to poor broadcast TV reception and limited movie programs.

In 1997, after the debate over a home for the post office was decided, the Wights combined both Telstar outlets into the store on Bridge Street (which had been renamed Mayville Road). Therefore, this year marks the tenth anniversary of Telstar Video's life after closing the Main Street store. Currently all of the movie stock (videos and DVDs) is being sold at super value prices — two movies for only $2. As for me, the most memorable movies I can remember renting from Telstar Video were: "Gone With The Wind," the "Godfather" series and "Casablanca."

Karen says, "I have thoroughly enjoyed having the store. Thinking back we have employed so many kids and adults, so many family. Many kids had their first jobs in our stores. We wish to thank everybody (customers, too!) for their support over the years."

Highway Construction Obstacles

Work on widening and straightening Route 2 from Pleasant River for about two miles westward in Gilford has three work areas. What will be the repositioned Pleasant River intersection (Route 2 and Fleming Road) has been inactive lately. The middle section where all the blasting of ledge has been taking place is the area where traffic is held up most often. The third area, west of the blasting area, is about one-half mile of hillside that is being excavated to allow for the highway to be moved south slightly and straightened. Work along this area does not hold up traffic in a major way — excavator and dozer work in a cleared strip beside the highway is used.

Rest of the News

Winter season's defacto opening day was Monday, Oct. 29, when cold temperatures hung on. Man-made snow was blowing along the top of Barker Mountain.

Work on the renovations at Bethel Shop 'N Save has also moved along. Modernizing the store's refrigerated storage space is the main reason for the work at the receiving end of the building. Another new feature of this job is a covered delivery dock.

Cross Excavation's crew has steadily progress laying water district pipe from the water main junction at Angevine Park west along the North Road to its new wells.

Friday, the pipeline had passed Ernest and Alberta Angevine's home going westward. Also, water pipes from the wells located in the Douglass/Coleman pit have been buried for winter protection.

At Douglass pit number two drilling is going on for the new water supply. News so far is that the first new well can produce about 100 gallons a minute without being pushed.

Between Angevine Park and

A small flock of turkey hens visited our bird feeding station on Thursday. Our regulars and the squirrels did not know what to make of the big birds.

Gas prices have managed to step over the three-dollar mark — Irving was $3.099 on Monday. Heating oil at Brooks Bros reached the $2.999 a gallon mark on Saturday with kerosene going to $3.349 a gallon.

Beware November floods. November is the 80th anniversary of the 1927 flash flood that knocked out a temporary Androscoggin River bridge early in the flood. For a number of days afterward crossing into Mayville required a ferry ride.

The storm that created the flood had followed a similar path (Vermont to Berlin, N.H., area) but was less concentrated than this year's July 11 storm, which hit Barker Mountain. However, the 1927 flood forced about a dozen families to flee, took out three temporary bridges, Pleasant River, the one at Mayville and one under construction at Sunday River. It also stopped train service from Gilford to Locke Mills — no mail.

We missed the Northeaster over the weekend; Saturday and Sunday were cool but still very nice weather. Like Camelot it rained on Saturday night. However Monday morning the temperature was 20 degrees on East "B" Hill.

Not too many hunters, an occasional person in bright orange meanders by looking for the elusive stag.

Construction in town is going ahead full speed to get jobs completed before the snow flies.

The LaRochelle property has a new foundation. It looks great, raising the building to new heights. Next door to us, the Georgie Pratt house is also in the works for a face lifting. A new foundation, a new septic system and a major overhaul on the house, are a work in progress.

The new addition to the former Douglass-Dapolito homestead is moving fast with a wonderful ell being built. On the Grafton side of Upton on Rt. 26, there is also construction and repair jobs in motion. We are all excited about the beautiful home the Knightlys are building. They will have a panoramic view of the lake and the mountains.

Sue Nelson, Liz Stanczyk and yours truly hit all the fairs on Saturday. We receive a warm welcome every year from the ladies at the West Bethel Church. Dried flower arrangement, fancy work, cookie walk and bake sale plus a lovely coffee clache are enjoyed in a very small space. The quilted pot holders are the best deal in town for stocking stuffers. A beautiful quilt is being raffled, and I plan to win it. (Yes I do!)

This is "Green Week" all over America. However it looks like "White Week" with a coating of frost in the back yard.

We met Sue and Dick Angevine stocking up at Walmart. Dick has been "under the weather" for about a week with a hospital admission. He has improved and we want him to stay that way.

Evelyn and Jim Kinney were hit by the "Flu Bug." It hit early this year. You could hear them coughing clear across the lake. We "banned" Evelyn from the "Fair Trip" this year.

Ginny and Diane Williamson have arrived in Lake Wales, Fla. They stopped in South Carolina at Diane's daughter's house.

Paul Casey pulled the last boat out of the cove this weekend. It's time to store the boats and bring the snow machines out.

The back lawn is a haven for many birds. Sparrows, finches, gray and blue jays, woodpeckers, tons of juncos, a female red-wing blackbird and others including two female cardinals. Maggie, the golden retriever, is confined to quarters when the bread is tossed out for the jays. Bread, no matter how stale or moldy is a delicacy for Maggie.

Take your pick for the "Bird of the Week."

We are moving to winter quarters next week so the column may be late or absent.

Veteran's Day is next Sunday. Let us honor them and thank them for their devotion and sacrifice for our country.

We send congratulations to Jennifer Aldrich and Timothy Aguirre for their induction into the National Honor Society. We are very proud of you.

Our deepest sympathy from the town of Upton to the parents of Dee-Dee Palmer of Andover who lost her life as a result of a motor vehicle accident on Nov. 3, 2007.

The Saturday storm left us with .65 inches of rain, the streams have come up a bit, and shallow wells have been replenished. There is a new beaver dam in the culvert just at the beginning of the forest road. It seems that the beavers try this every year, and just about every year they build it a little too high, and humans have to pull it down to prevent road damage. Ah, well, that's life.

Our trip to the Chesapeake was great fun. Arriving in Lansdale, Pa., in a heavy downpour on Friday, the 26th, we waited until Saturday morning to head down to Oxford, Md., with our friends, Hank and Shirley Bowen. After a delightful lunch of crab cakes at the Robert Morris Inn, we boarded the "Knot on Call."

After loading our gear on board, we had a pleasant afternoon sail before "gunkholing" for the night in one of the many tributaries that surround the Bay. We woke on Sunday to a fair-weather day with very brisk winds. It was what you call a "spanking breeze," 20 to 25 knots, and it succeeded in doing some damage to the sails and rigging, so the sails went down, and we motored to our anchorage for that day and spent the afternoon reading, napping, and visiting.

Monday dawned absolutely perfect, but unfortunately we had to motor because of aforementioned damage. We did, however, enjoy seeing the oystermen tonging for oysters, and the crab fishermen netting crabs from their long lines. We reluctantly packed our gear and abandoned ship about 3 p.m. for the trip back to Lansdale. We did stop at Bayard's Inn on the way for a lovely supper of Crab Imperial, accompanied by their famous Bloody Marys. Then it was back to Maine on Tuesday, and Mike and I had a late supper of the small bluefish that he had caught off the stern of Knot on Call.

Our next-door neighbor, Keith Giles, surprised us last month by getting married. He and Donna Gifford of Andover have been seeing each other for some time and decided to make their relationship permanent. They did the deed in Auburn on Saturday, Oct. 13, with the ceremony performed by a friend. Donna has a son, Evan, 15. Best wishes to the whole family!

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Bell rented a truck to take some of their things to their new home in Medina, N.Y., then returned in time for him to preach on Sunday in West Bethel. He will be there for the last time on Sunday, the 11th. The Rev. John Williams will return to his former pulpit here on Nov. 18. As they say in Rome, "Hail and Farewell!"

The Christmas Craft Fair of the West Bethel Church, complete with a cookie walk and various baked goods, took place on Saturday in spite of the stormy weather, and a good time was had by all, not to mention that some money was earned. Among other things, raffle tickets for an Ina Grover quilt were sold, drawing to be held at the Christmas Greens sale. Also on sale were dozens of Alice McNinis' hand-crafted quilted potholders.

The Union Church will hold its usual Thanksgiving fellowship supper on Nov. 10. As always, Nancy Grover will bring the turkey, with the remaining dishes potluck.

West Bethel resident Doris Brown is now living at Market Square in South Paris. She would probably welcome visitors from her friends.

Sunday River Alpacas had its last cria of the year on Halloween, when Eureka gave birth to a baby boy. As soon as his name has been decided, we'll let you know. He is cute as a button, with white socks on his front legs and white markings on his face.

We've had turkeys in the garden and under the feeders several times this past week. They seem oblivious that Thanksgiving is coming.

Barbara Mahler, Jane Hosterman, Becky Kendall, Ruth Grover, and a number of other Bethelites attended a performance on Sunday of "Don't Dress for Dinner," put on by the Oxford Hills Music and Performing Arts Association. It was very entertaining and well received.

It's time to start planning the Thanksgiving menu and get in supplies. Aren't we lucky that we have so much to be thankful for! Be in touch and let me know your holiday plans; dhoeh@megalink.net; 836-3011.

Gilead

by Lin Chapman

The birds have come back to the feeders. There are already the usual suspects such as, chickadees, juncos, sparrows, goldfinches, mourning doves, both red-breasted and white-breasted nuthatches, hairy and downy woodpeckers, and of course my favorites, Mr. and Mrs. Cardinal.

My brother, Steve McLain, received a picture by way of e-mail from Major Stephen McLain. The picture was taken in Kuwait before Major McLain left for Iraq, and he is dressed in full military gear.

There is a new shop opening in Bethel on Main Street. Village Sweets will entice you with all the delicious goodies from premium chocolate to specialty jellybeans. The Grand Opening is on Saturday, Nov. 17, and is just in time for the holidays. Be sure to stop by and check out to see if your favorite candy is there.

The best part of this is that the owner is Jill Bujnowski who lives in Gilead. Congratulations on the new business.

Hugh's brother and wife, Don and Gloria Fraser, from Augusta were in Gorham, N.H., recently and stopped by to visit for a few minutes.

Halloween was quiet again this year. There were only five little ones that stopped by the house for Trick or Treat.

Bethany Hooper came with her children, Jakob and Octavia, and a little later Alicia McLean came with her children, Morgan, Tanner and Brandon.

Hugh went to check out where the blasting on Route 2 is happening. Norm Buttrick stopped by, so he went with Hugh. They looked around but did not find anything too exciting. Hugh is trying to get pictures to show how things are progressing. These pictures will become part of the Gilead Historical Society's archives. Before he left, Don Bennett, who writes the Bethel column, appeared to check things out also.

Bill and Gale Tout stopped by this past weekend. They have recently returned from a trip out West. Our grandchildren, William, Annie and Sidney, were visiting and taking advantage of a break in the rain to play outside so it was a true dooryard call. On Nov. 6 our grandson, William, will turn 7 years old. Gale had not seen the kids for quite awhile, so she was amazed just how much they had grown.

On Monday, Dec. 3, Andover Service Circle (ASC) will be holding its 6th annual Senior Appreciation Dinner at the Andover Town Hall. As a gift to Andover's seniors (those who have reached 65 years of age) and the disabled along with each having a guest, the Circle will open the doors at 3:30 p.m. for a social hour followed by a 4:30 p.m. dinner with dessert. All those eligible who would like to attend are asked to please telephone Judy Michaud at 392-1221, so that ASC can plan a truly lovely bountiful party.

Sue Mills and Jen Merrill would like to thank all of the volunteers who braved the downpours and drizzle to allow the Halloween Walk to be so successful. Nothing was going to stop this hearty bunch of volunteers from putting on a terrific event and with no matter what the weather, the show went on. Special thanks to those who worked to make the scenes, volunteering to haunt or be tour guides, for setting up and breaking down, and for offering use of tools or trailers and hay. It could not have happened without all of you! Thanks so much to Rick Merrill, Chris and Alice Lee, Kathy, Glen, Deegan (and his friends), and Nik Conrad, Patty Brown, Stephanie and Jeremy Sterling, Gloria and Tyler Morton, Darcy and Mark Newman, LeeAnn and Kelsey Virgin (and extended family), Greg Parr, Donna Morse, Lauren, Cindy and Bear Gammon (and crew), DD Palmer, Steven Jacques, Eileen and Esther Pew, Beanie and Doug Averill, Betty Beauchane, Roger Sabin, Wilma Bean, Carolyn and Dick Merrill, Kelly and Kevin Morton, Abby and Brian Mills, Jen and Joe Young, John Emery, Mike Worthley, Becky and David Smith, Matt Burnham, Karen Thurston, Wendy and Barry Martin, and Michele Gagnon. Almost $500 was raised for the 5th-graders despite the rain, and we consider that to be a huge success with an estimated 150 people attending the event from the family of Dee-Dee-Palmer, who died on Saturday, Nov. 3, as the result of an auto accident. She will be missed by many, many family and friends who knew and loved her. Dee-Dee is survived by her mother, Sandra Hall and her husband Joe of Andover; her father, Sherwood Palmer and his wife Renee of Norway; her companion, Travis Morton of Rumford; four sisters; three brothers; grandparents, Thomas and Nancy Conley of Rumford, Iva Palmer of Stratton, Robert and Darlene Hall of Andover; and several aunts uncles and cousins. Now that the weather is getting a bit cooler and warmer clothes are necessary, please think of the Recycling Center as you sort through last year's woolen hats, mittens and scarves you no longer need. The center has a box where you can leave things which they plan to distribute to needy youngsters before cold weather sets in. If you don't see the box, please ask an attendant where it is.

On the 3rd I drove to Rumford to meet Johan, and she drove us to her daughter's and my niece's home, Rebecca Schwind, in Hallowell. After having coffee and rolls we headed out to start our fifth year of a pre-Christmas shop-a-rama. We started out at Reyny's in Gardiner and finished in the rain around 6:30 that evening. In mid-afternoon we lunched at Ruby Tuesdays. After unpacking Rebecca's car we played Liverpool rummy while eating snacks that Johan had prepared and stayed up much too late.

On Sunday, we resumed shopping, had lunch at Friendly's in Augusta and shopped just a little more. We said our goodbyes in Augusta, as Rebecca drove back to Hallowell and we headed homeward. We got back to Rumford around 3:30. It was a great sunny day and we all enjoyed being together during this once-a-year overnighter.

On the 4th, Bea and Frank Lowell had company for the day — Mr. and Mrs. Brian Bennett and Ted Perry from Buckfield, Olive Record from Minot and Kay Saunders from Hebron. They brought lobsters and clams for lunch, which all enjoyed.

Bea is quite proud of her grandson, Erik Lowell, who is 11 years of age and tagged a doe on the 30th of October.

The Town Office will be closed on Veteran's Day, the

Here we are again on a Sunday with a big game on, I either have to change my schedule or the NFL has to. I don't think I could even begin to win this one. At least it would be a good thought. And Brady was just picked off. #@@%$#@^@#%

But on a more serious note, we are coming up a very special day when we need to pay tribute to our veterans. Not just those that have passed on to paradise grounds with a soft cushion underfoot, but to all that have served and to those who are proudly serving today.

We stood together to overcome many injustices in our long history, and at times I think we forget what America is all about. America is about rights and the freedom to disagree. Americans have the right to speak up and to disagree with a neighbor. And that freedom has been preserved by the veteran. I can sit here and write what is on my mind and what I want to because of Veterans. We can go to a sporting event and not have to pledge allegiance to the flag because of Veterans. But those that do not show respect have very little respect for themselves.

The next time you pledge allegiance to the flag, "Thank a Veteran." The next time you pray at church, "Thank a Veteran." The next time you read, "In God We Trust," "Thank a Veteran." The next time you disagree with Taxgusta, "Thank a Veteran." Thank a Veteran because they stood up and defended all our freedoms.

On to other things, as I could carry on all night and miss my coffee and ice cream. But Leah Deegan is home now and doing well. I heard that she is wanting to get back to bingo and all those good things. I'm sure everyone is waiting for her return.

My buddy Bob called from Texas Friday afternoon and we talked for two hours. Or at least we laughed for two hours. I didn't get all my chores done, but they were waiting on Saturday. We talked about the time we went window shopping at Annabelle's House. And then the Saturday afternoon we visited Homburg and Bob ended up with a stiff neck from trying to look at all the sweet young ladies. And times we gave the flight crews the Arctic Moon at Andoya AB, Norway. And those were the days.

I keep telling Bob that he has got to move here to get his VA claim straightened out. Texas is not a very good place in terms of VA treatment, or so Bob tells me. Course Texas does have a wealth of bull to spread around. And some people here think I spread it. Well I'm here to tell you that Texas needs people to help spread all that bull that is there. And that is no bull! But Bob is having a time with the VA and it is a crying shame.

Well it may be hunting season, but all I've heard is a lot of traffic coming and going. I'm not sure if anyone is hunting or not. I bet that strange P/U went down the road a dozen times and then down to the gravel pit and back as many times. Bet they were complaining about the cost of gas too.

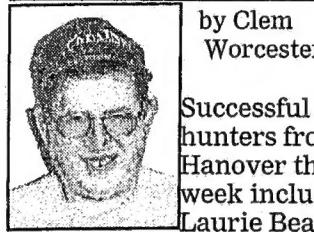

Marie Curtis told me that she filled her tag the first day and could sit back and relax now. But I know that she will be busy fixing up all kinds of good eating for the rest of the hunters on the hill.

Then from the dark side of Albany on Friday was the report that hunting was very slow.

They were more interested if there was sequels to the CD I sent with the Mayor. At last report, there were no sequels from Argentina yet. Stay tuned for the latest developments.

Keep smiling and have a wonderful Veterans Day!

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

Successful hunters from Hanover this week include Laurie Beau-doin with a four-point buck and Andy Barlow with a six-point buck.

A well-attended dinner was served at the Rumford Grange in Rumford Center this past Sunday. Turkey, ham, vegetables and pies were on the menu. It was just like Thanksgiving.

A meeting took place at the Hanover Town House last Thursday evening to discuss the Mahoosuc Initiative. Local attendees were asked to discuss what was important for the future of Hanover and the area. Items mentioned and discussed included a need for snowmobile trails in Hanover, the possibility of an east/west highway, an improved business climate with better paying jobs, the success and needs of Gardner Roberts Memorial Library, and preserving the beauty and tranquility of the area.

Local residents traveled to Strong last Sunday to attend the 50th wedding anniversary party for Clyde and Lois Barker, Freeman and Norma Farington and Donna and Clem Worcester attended.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Ruth (Vickie) Couture, who passed away in Lewiston at the age of 83 on Oct. 29 after several years of declining health. A family graveside service took place on Friday at Hanover Cemetery and on Saturday there was a celebration of her life at the First Congregational Church in Andover. The family has suggested that memorial donations be made to Gardner Roberts Memorial Library in Hanover.

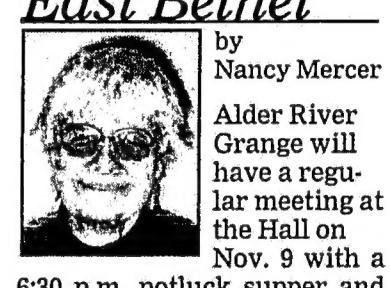

D.A. Wilson and Company has completed work on a portion of the Howard Pond Road. The project included replacing culverts under driveways and digging out ditches that were then lined with stones. A 15-foot paved roadway is maintained in that area between The Country Hair Shed and about 900 feet further up the hill.

The dam at the outlet to Howard Pond has been opened and the level of the water is dropping. The pond appears quite deserted, as most summer folks have gone to warmer climates. High winds and rain recently knocked trees and branches onto wires causing several localized power failures.

Halloween got by with very little notice. The most "Trick or Treat" people that we heard about were ten at one household. Many reported having none.

Did you see the snow on the slopes at Sunday River last week? It is time to make sure the snowblowers and Minute Mount II snowplows are all tuned up and ready to go.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

Daylight saving time arrived over the weekend. Did everyone make it to church on time?

On Sunday, Nov. 11, at the West Paris Universalist Church the Rev. Richard Beal will be "Observing Veterans Day," a service of tribute to all those, past and present, who risked their lives and sacrificed their illusions to serve their country and its democracy. Church starts at 9 a.m. followed by a coffee and social hour. All are welcome.

The 101st annual Chicken Pie Supper will be held on Nov. 15, the Thursday before Thanksgiving at the West Paris Universalist Church at 5:30 p.m. Beverly Stevens is chairperson. It takes many to prepare this large supper. Do come and enjoy the delicious chicken pies.

Marta Clements has returned from a group tour of the islands of the Grand Circle in Greece. They toured for three weeks and saw the devastation of their recent fires and also the Olympic Stadiums. She had a wonderful time.

Ruth Hazelton flew to Washington, D.C., to be picked up by her granddaughter to go to Harbourtowne Golf Conference Center at St. Michael, Md. The trip was to attend the wedding of Ruth's granddaughter, Melissa Vining to Walter Stundick. The wedding was held on Sept. 29 and Ruth reports it was a beautiful occasion. Congratulations to the newlyweds.

The neighbors on each side of me have construction projects that are progressing well. They look so nice, for everything is gleaming with new siding and fresh paint.

Thanksgiving is in two weeks. Do let me know your plans so they can be included in the paper.

My little companion still follows me around as I do the daily chores. She sits and watches and appears to approve that all is done properly.

Our neighbor, Ron Fournier, has had a busy fall so far. He guided several bear hunters to successful bear seasons. He also helped a moose hunter bag a large bull up the Pleasant River valley. It was so far back that they had to get permission to use an ATV on national forest land to get the critter out. I haven't asked him about deer hunting yet.

Brother Rupert had minor surgery last week at Stephens Memorial. He is now doing well after some initial discomfort due to pain after the anesthesia wore off. He is back to enjoying playing cards on these long, post-daylight savings evenings.

I had a new experience, for me, while hunting last week, one I don't expect to ever witness again. As I walked a logging road, I heard a commotion in the woods just ahead. At first, it sounded like a buck deer rubbing the velvet off his horns, but it kept getting louder. After a loud crash, I decided it had to be a moose engagement. Sure enough, I could soon see two huge bulls, head to head, sparring — their antlers interlocked and rattling as their heads swung back and forth. I watched this for about two minutes, until one bull backed off and disappeared into the underbrush. Thinking the engagement was over, I continued up the road.

Shortly, I could hear the antlers clattering again! These sounds continued until I had gone far enough up the trail where I could no longer hear them. I'm thinking those "fellas" must have been practice jousting just for fun as the rut is usually over by this late in the fall. This may not be the case this year, though, as I saw two more moose a little later. One was a "smallish" cow, followed by a young bull sporting a small set of antlers. May-be these were "late rutters."

One evening last week I let Snuffy out about the time we finished supper. He failed to show up the rest of the evening, unusual because he generally lies curled up in the driveway or on the porch for the night, not far from the kitchen door. About bedtime I went outside with a flashlight, calling and looking for him. No contact. Mona said he has probably treed something and is guarding it until we can get there. Next morning, no Snuffy! I had a hunting date and left early. Later, Mona called me via cell phone and said she found Snuffy with a coon treed in a very tall maple tree behind the garage! Good coon dog!

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens met at the Grange Hall for a meeting, dinner put on by the WHS Alumni, and program by Wendy Newmeyer from Maine Balsam Fir Products. She gave an interesting talk and gave each one a small fir pillow and calendar in which to keep appointments. Thanks, Wendy. The nominating committee is Joan Morgan, Mary Emmons and Patty W. Howe. The wood ticket was drawn and Bob Dixon from Norway won. Thanks to Jerold Emmons for the donation of the wood and Geff Inman for making the tickets. It was very generous. Next meeting will be at the American Legion Hall, Locke Mills, with the Auxiliary serving the dinner, and the Christmas Party. If you want to exchange a gift, bring one. Also, items for the food pantry (paper items as well as toothpaste and brushes, etc.) or food. Items for Children for Christmas if you wish.

Historical Society

The Historical Society Museum is a source of information and inspiration to nearly everyone who sees it. The society looks forward to your participation. You can make a difference in the area through the Historical Society. It offers all it can for a small organization. The programs and research reports give you a sound perspective on many subjects. They take their responsibilities to the public seriously. Curator Larry Billings brought a spare guest book for the museum.

Meetings are the second Saturday of each month at 7 p.m.

Larry Billings recently watched programs on Geneva, Switzerland and Milan, Italy, capitals of finance and fashion respectively. He finds the travel channel fascinating in general and watches it regularly.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany Township.

Just about all of the pretty, colorful leaves have fallen from the trees, leaving them bare and barren looking. Once we get snow, the landscape will beautify, but, until then, we'll just have to look at naked trees.

It was nice getting an "extra" hour of sleep on Sunday. It was nice to sleep until 9, and then get up and have it actually be 8. Made it seem like we hadn't wasted the morning.

I want to thank everyone who helped me after my accident last week. The two gentlemen who stopped and pulled me from the car and called for help (I am so sorry, I never got your names), another gentleman who stopped to be sure I was all right, Chief Carr and fellow Bethel Officer, the Bethel Fire Crew and the Ambulance Crew, thank you!

Sherwood, thank you so much for stopping to be sure I was OK, and for keeping a weather eye out for a vehicle for us. Thank you to Ed and Mary Jo for the loan of a vehicle, the moral support and help getting a vehicle. Also a thank you for all of the well-wishers (too numerous to name) who called to make sure I was OK and for the words of support. I was fortunate — I walked away without a scratch or a bruise, just the shakes, hysteria and a few aches. My poor car, however, wasn't so lucky. I'll miss my little Escort! God was most certainly looking out for me and I thank Him most of all.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

As I write this it is raining hard and has been for hours.

We need the rain; even the Crooked River is low, not to mention the ponds and lakes. It is still unseasonably warm and the birds still sing in the trees. We have a woodpecker that visits daily, sometimes two or three times a day. I believe some of them have gone south, but others seem to be prepared to winter over here. That is probably not good, but we like looking at them, nonetheless.

Friend Jim is up for more hay and he and Dave are getting ready to go buy some and then fill up the truck with what remains here. That will be a relief to have more space in the driveway. Tasha doesn't care, she has found some hay to lie on and she is happy. She can watch all the traffic go by and still be out of sight of most people. She is all dressed in orange so as not to be mistaken for a deer or other wild animal.

Today, the 8th, the Waterford Historical Society will hold a potluck supper and a Finnish Kantele Music Program. The supper starts at 6 p.m. and the

According to John Governeur, November is National Novel Writing month. If you send a 50,000-word novel by midnight on Nov. 30 to NaNoWriMoers you'll get a writer's certificate from them. That's 22 days to write a novel. Computers ready, get typing.

Christian Nielson's attorney is appealing his sentence. I was hoping we were done with that episode. I believe in the bill of rights, etc., but when a man kills four people and confesses that he did it, why should he be able to appeal? Hat's to appeal? He did it, he admitted it, let it go. Do not waste my time and the state's money in allowing this to continue any longer.

I went to the first short story writing class and found that I knew at least half of the people there. It was great to see so many familiar faces, some of which I do not see too often. Now I just have to write a story. Any ideas out there?

That is all for this week. Have a great week; the weather promises to be great for the rest of the week.

Whitman Memorial Library

We goofed! We did not get out our usual advertising for our monthly program. Today, Thursday, Nov. 8, at 2 p.m. Sarah Wright will be speaking on the Indians of Peru, South America. One of her topics will concern a group of women who have lost their homes in the rain forest. They are now making tapestries depicting the way of life in Peru. They are selling them and have been come self supportive. There may be some available for sale this afternoon. We hope to see you there. There is no charge and light refreshments will be served.

At our Board meeting held this past week we welcomed a new trustee, Sonja Davis, who is filling out Frank Campbell's term. Our thanks go out to Frank for his years of service as well.

Our librarian, Althea Hathaway, reported that an unnamed gentleman had donated a whole box of videos, books and books on tape. The books on tape have given our audio books a big boost. Thank you very much.

Another gentleman from out of state, Robert Van Waes, has donated a copy of "Maine Folks and Maine Ways," a delightful book of stories about Maine. Thank you to him also.

The Libra Foundation, which provides generous grants to small libraries around the country, has sent us a copy of "Raising Readers," five stories from Maine; a wonderful children's book. We truly appreciate the donation and all the good work the Libra Foundation does.

Our October program about the Grand Trunk Railways was very well attended. Unfortunately, John Ames, was ill and unable to attend, so those who brought their copies of the book were unable to get it autographed. John Davis of South Paris and Lenwood Andrews of South Woodstock took care of the program for us and it was well done. Thank you from all of us.

The latest improvement at our library is a ramp for access to the downstairs room. This will not only make access for a wheelchair, but also replaces a very awkward set of steps for everyone.

We will be taking part in the Oxford Hills One Book/One Community program again this year. I will report on all information as I get it.

The Board meeting dates for 2008 will be in January, April, June and October, on the first Thursday of the month at 2:30 p.m. These meetings are open to the public. Also, please contact the librarian if you have any items that you would like to see addressed by the board. We are open from 1:30 to 5 on Tuesdays and 1:30 to 7 on Thursdays. The telephone number is 665-2505.

Most recent books at the library are: "The Parting," Beverly Lewis; "When Morning Comes," Cindy Woodsmall; "Water for Elephants," Sara Gruen; "Name Dropping," Jane Heller; "A Clearing in the Wild," Jane Kirkpatrick; "Just Beyond the Clouds," Karen Kingsbury; "The Choice," Nicholas Sparks; and "High Noon," Nora Roberts.

Come and check us out. There is something for everyone!

The Lewin Center

The Lewin Center sponsors educational events and research to further causes of social justice. Its home, at the Gehring House on Broad Street, is also the site of many local meetings, retreats, and educational events.

The Lewin Center is at an exciting and critical juncture. After a year of defining and stabilizing the organization, we are seeing increased usage of the Gehring House, are beginning stimulating programming, and have ongoing house renovation projects. A recent planning conference elicited valuable ideas for programming, fund-raising, and collaboration, energizing the group of Bethel volunteers, Board members, and donors and supporters from other parts of the country. The house was at its best, thanks to the efforts of Ginny Gamble, Ginger Kelly, Ruth Barrett, and Sally Taylor; baked goods were provided by Marcia Foster-Austin, Nicholas Sparks; and "High Noon," Nora Roberts.

We're now planning for a conference at the end of November presented by Evelyn Lindner (www.humiliation-studies.org) entitled "The Dynamics of Humiliation in a Globalizing World." Part of the conference design is being planned by a team of Bethelites and will involve both preparatory work and follow-up projects within the community. We're excited to be providing this unique learning opportunity.

The Gehring House will be the site of a community holiday celebration on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16. Be watching for more details.

State Class C Championship at Fitzpatrick Stadium: Foxcroft Academy 4, Telstar 2; Nov. 6—Telstar's Bailey Davis scored both Rebel goals in a loss to Foxcroft. Chelsea Bean had an assist, and Brianna Douglass had four saves in goal. Telstar outshot Foxcroft, 11-8. "We had opportunities to score but it didn't go," said coach Gail Wight, noting that Foxcroft's opportunity to practice on an artificial turf field may have helped their players in adjusting to the Fitzpatrick turf. Despite the loss, she said, "It was a great season."

FRANKLIN E. BURRIS

Franklin Ernest Burris, 99, formerly of West Bethel, died at Aiken, S.C.

Franklin was born July 26, 1908, to Thomas and Bertha (Swicker) Burris in Somerville, Mass. He attended schools there until their move to West Bethel in 1914. He graduated from Gould Academy in Bethel in 1926 and Bates College in Lewiston in 1930. He had two brothers, Ralph and Russell, and two sisters, Beulah and Esther.

All seven living children were born in West Bethel, from 1939 to 1954.

During the depression years his WPA jobs were picking fir and spruce cones (more profitable than chopping wood), haying, logging, and working in a wood mill.

By the time he wed Doris Smith of Lowell, Mass., in 1938, he worked for the state of Maine Department of Roads, a fair-weather job for years, so he continued logging during the winters. Because he was too old and with four children to enlist in WWII, he tried working in a South Portland shipyard welding, but using torches in cramped hull spaces caused him to leave. He instead helped build the Brunswick Air Base runways.

He retired from the state of Maine Road Department in 1974 and moved to Indialantic, Fla., living in the same home until Aug. 18, 2006 when he moved into Mary's South Carolina home. For six years he was the sole caregiver with intermittent help from his children after his wife's stroke in 1991.

He loved to travel, and after his wife died he was able to cruise through the Panama Canal; tour the western National Parks and Key West; and attend many grandchildren's weddings and family trips.

He is survived by his children: June Blankenship of Indialantic, Fla.; Gloria Hopkins and David of St. Augustine, Fla.; Linda Watson and Tom of Kearney, Neb.; Margaret Wilson and Remmel of Valencia, Calif.; Mary Lockwood and Jon of Aiken, S.C., and Franklin Joseph Burris and Janet of Solon, Iowa; 17 grandchildren; and 22 great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by two brothers; a sister, Beulah; a newborn daughter; his wife; and their third daughter, Cynthia Waugh.

Memorial Services will be held in 2008 with his ashes scattered in Maine.

MAINE WILDLIFE PARK CLOSING FOR THE SEASON NOVEMBER 11

On Sunday November 11th, the Maine Wildlife Park will close for the 2007 season. Since it is also Veteran's Day, the park would like to recognize and thank all Maine military personnel and veterans for their service to our country by offering them one free adult admission to the park on our final day of operation for 2007.

The wildlife park had a very successful 2007 season, with record-breaking attendance and a variety of events scheduled throughout the summer. School programs and tours were conducted regularly for thousands of children. And volunteers donated hundreds of hours of their time in projects too numerous to list to benefit and beautify the park. For the most part, the park's wildlife over-winter outdoors, the way they naturally would in the wild. However, park staff will be busy creating natural shelters and windbreaks for the animal's protection from extreme winter conditions. We look forward to seeing new and regular visitors in mid April of 2008; with the park opening as soon as weather permits on or around April 15.

The Maine Wildlife Park has over 25 species of native wildlife on display, plus wildlife gardens, nature trails, and other interactive exhibits and displays. The park is open daily through November 11th from 9:30am-4:30pm. Starting November 4th, visitors must leave the premises by 5:00pm because of darkness due to daylight savings time. Admission to the park is free for ages 3 and under; $4.00 ages 5-12; $6.00 for adults, and $4.50 for seniors. Groups of 15 or more are $3.00 per person. Bring a picnic and spend the day! A great holiday gift: 2008 Family and Community Season Passes are available, and are an incredible bargain for families and groups that visit the park several times over the course of the summer.

For more information, please call the Maine Wildlife Park at 207-657-4977; or check us out online at www.mainewildlifepark.com or www.mefishwildlife.com.

From
Oxford County Democrats

The Oxford County Democrats held their Final Push Supper on Friday, Nov. 2, at the American Legion Hall in Dixfield with an excellent crowd enjoying a spaghetti dinner prepared by the Legion members.

County Chair Cathy Newell of Greenwood welcomed the group and mentioned the help needed for the District 93 House race. She introduced the legislators and elected officials in attendance including House Majority Leader Hannah Pingree, Assistant Majority Leader Sean Faircloth, Rep. John Patrick, Senator Bruce Bryant, Rep. Tim Carter, and Rep. Janet Mills, as well as Sheriff Wayne Gallant and Maine Democratic Party Chair John Knutson.

Congressman Mike Michaud offered remarks about the work he is doing with veterans and spoke about the importance of the efforts of the grassroots efforts to attract and support legislative candidates.

Congressman Tom Allen

highlighted the reasons he is running for the US Senate including the need to expand the Democratic margin in the Senate to effect a major change in the Iraq policy and to provide a real focus on the needs of the middle class with respect to jobs and healthcare. He encouraged those present to visit his website www.tomallen.org and join his team.

Senator Bruce Bryant concluded the evening by encouraging those present to volunteer in the campaign and introduced Sheryl Briggs, candidate for the House in District 93, who thanked those who have helped and gave special thanks to the Legion cooks and staff for the excellent meal. Following the Final Push Supper, Congressman Allen and his wife, Diana, accompanied Sheryl Briggs, Sen. Bryant and Rep. Patrick to the Mountain Valley Football Playoff game.

Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

An opportunity to learn something about the value of an antique or collectible at the Valuation Day is being offered by the Bethel Historical Society on Saturday, Nov. 10, at the society's O'Neil Robinson House from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

For a $5 donation to the society, Jay Boschetti of Steam Mill Antiques will provide a value for one or two items per person. Boschetti has been involved in this field for much of his life and operates a successful business just west of Bethel Hill on U.S. Route 2.

Those possessing an antique or collectible item for which they would like further information such as its purpose, background, and/or monetary value are urged to attend this special opportunity offered by the society in cooperation with Mr. Boschetti.

Don't miss the final lecture in the 2007 Bethel Historical Society series, "Maine Character and Characters," sponsored in part by a grant from the Maine Humanities Council, to be held on Thursday, Nov. 8, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Society Director Stanley R. Howe will present a centenary profile of this remarkable "character" and provide some insights into her personality and contributions to the community and beyond. The lecture is free and open to all interested persons.

With over 1,400 members, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations.

AREA RESIDENT ELECTED TO
AMERICAN LEGION
AUXILIARY NATIONAL OFFICE

Jeri Brooks Greenwell of Bethel has been elected National Chaplain of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Greenwell joined the American Legion Auxiliary through the military service of both parents, Dana and Carolyn Brooks, who served during WWII. Greenwell has been an active member of the Auxiliary Mundy-Allen Unit 81 in Bethel for the last 43 years. She has held the offices in her local auxiliary, including president, in addition to serving both the department and national organizations.

The American Legion Auxiliary has 900,000 members across the nation and in several foreign locations. Affiliated with The American Legion, the Auxiliary is a veterans' service organization with members in nearly 10,000 communities. The organization sponsors volunteer programs on the national and local levels, focusing on three major areas: veterans, young people and the community.

"Military families give so much to our communities and country, and Americans have an obligation to help them in every way possible," said Pulvernacher-Ryan.

"The $1.2 million campaign will raise the average National President's Scholarship from $1,800 to $3,600 for fifteen deserving military children each and every year."

As National Chaplain, Greenwell is on a mission to raise funds for this initiative to educate children of war-

"Our veterans give so much to protect our freedom, the least we can do is help lessen their burdens back home," said Greenwell.

To donate to the "Educating Children of Warriors" campaign and provide educational opportunities to military children who face frequent moves, school transition, isolation, long-distance parenting, and the stress of knowing Mom or Dad is in harm's way, log on to the Auxiliary's National website and donate today to the National President's Scholarship: www.legion-aux.org/donate.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

THE REALTOR'S "OTHER" JOB

A Realtor's job is to sell your home for the best price, within the shortest period of time. Another essential part of the agent's responsibility is to make the sales process as easy as possible for you, the seller. Your Realtor can eliminate much of the hassle involved in selling your home, while providing you and your family with the "peace of mind" you need during this sensitive time. Your agent can help you avoid the inconvenience of having buyers stop by unannounced to see your home. A Realtor's job includes screening buyers to avoid wasting your time with those who are not financially qualified or who are "just curious".

When you list your home with a real estate professional, you receive an array of valuable services, including the widest possible exposure through the Multiple Listing Service and Internet websites. These are the best means to attract the most qualified buyers to your home.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

Card of Thanks

Elizabeth, Sue, Rod and I would like to express our heartfelt thanks for the outpouring of love and support we have received at this most difficult time in our lives. To Karissa and Kianna, Greg's two daughters from Augusta, Ga., we are so thankful that you were able to be here; and to my brother, Dwight and his wife, Elaine, and my sister, June, and her husband, Buster, for driving all the way to Maine from Florida on such short notice to offer their love and help. To those friends who brought food including the Gould dining service, the many phone calls, visits and all those who have sent cards thank you so much. A very special thank you to Pastor Chuck Mason and his wife, Kathy, for their kind words; to the Bethel Alliance Church for letting us use their facility; the Bethel Ambulance crew, the Life Flight crew, the nurses on the ninth floor cardiac special care unit at Maine Medical Center and Greenleaf's Funeral Home. Elizabeth and I are very fortunate to have many, many friends.

ARTHUR WARDWELL

Arthur Wardwell, 91, of Albany, passed away Nov. 4, 2007 at the home where he was born July 19, 1916, the son of Roy and Hazel (Kimball) Wardwell.

He was educated in the Dresser and Clark schools and the hills and woods of Albany.

He married Alice Andrews Oct. 5, 1940 and they had twin daughters; his family and grandchildren and great-grandchildren were the love of his life. Many nieces and nephews spent a lot of time at the farm also.

He started mowing the family farm's fields at the age of 13 with the "new" mowing machine; he cut and hauled ice for neighbors; during the depression he worked in a sawmill in Stoneham; after the Flood of '36 he worked with his truck for the WPA repairing many bridges in Albany; he plowed snow in Albany with the town's crawler tractor, then for many years in Woodstock; he did farming and gardening but loved logging his wood lots and working with wood; at age 90 he split six cords of wood with his wood splitter.

He was a true woodsman and hunter; he got his first deer at age 15 and his last at age 84, followed at the Hunt's Corner Cemetery. Donations in Mr. Wardwell's memory would be accepted to the Hunt's Corner Cemetery Association, c/o Betty Gingras, 1240 Hunt's Corner Road, Albany Twp, ME 04217. In Loving Memory of Ralph Merrill May 16, 1937 - November 11, 2006

God saw that you were getting tired and a cure was not to be. So He placed his arms around you and whispered, "Come with me." With tearful eyes, we let you go and you slowly slipped away.

Although we loved you dearly, we could not make you stay. A precious heart stopped beating, and hard working hands were laid to rest. For this, God would prove to us, He only takes the "Best."
